JOHN CARROLL DEAD.

THIS PROMINENT LYNCHBURG TOBACCONIST PASSES AWAY.

An interesting sketch of his youthful difficulties and active life-preparations for the Randolph-Macon Commencement.

LYNCHBURG, VA., February 9.—(Special.)—Mr. John W. Carroll, manufacturer of the celebrated "Lone-Jack" smoking-tobacco, died at his home, in this city, at 4 o'clock this afternoon, aged 66 years. He had been in declining health for some time, but was confined to his bed only two weeks prior to his death. He was a native of Staunton, Va., but had resided in Lynchburg forty-nine years. In early life he applied himself to the work of a cabinet-maker, displaying in this calling the same earnestness and indomitable perseverance that were manifested when later on he became one of the leading tobaccoists of the country. From the year 1859 dates the most interesting period of Mr. Carroll's career.

HIS USEFUL CAREER.
Mr. Carroll was for thirty-two years a member of the City Council and for twenty-two years its president. In all enterprises of public character, tending to build up the city and advance its prosperity, Mr. Carroll was invariably a liberal contributor, giving abundantly of his means to keep the wheels of trade and business in constant activity. To his liberality and public spirit may be ascribed the building of the late William Crumpton county, for many years a large and successful manufacturer of plug-tobacco. Mr. Carroll's first wife died in 1877. By that marriage he has six living children—Mr. William S. Carroll, Tax-Collector of Lynchburg; Mrs. James M. Reddick, of Lynchburg; Mrs. Charles W. Miller, of Staunton; Mr. R. Layman Carroll, Mr. Walter Carroll, and Mrs. John E. Ganaway, of Lynchburg.

In 1878 he was married to Miss Sallie Francis Adams, daughter of the late Isaac Adams, and sister of Messrs. W. D. Adams, I. H. Adams, and R. H. T. Adams, of this city. He is survived by his second wife and by three children of the second marriage—Mr. John W. Carroll, Jr., Mr. Isaac Holcombe Carroll, and Miss Sallie Francis Duval Carroll.

RANDOLPH-MACON COMMENCEMENT.
The Board of Trustees of the Randolph-Macon system of schools, which met here last evening, adopted at their session this morning, by a practically unanimous vote, the following resolutions:

Resolved, That a committee including the heads of each institution be appointed to arrange a programme for a general commencement of all Randolph-Macon institutions to be held in the city of Lynchburg June 6th to 9th.

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to make arrangements for the rally proposed.

Resolved, That this action shall not be interpreted to discontinue special exercises or celebrations at the conclusion of its school, in the work at any Randolph-Macon institution which desires to have such exercises.

The report of Chancellor Smith, proposing a plan for the securing of large additions to the endowment fund, was favorably acted upon, and a committee of five was appointed to co-operate in its execution.

A vacancy in the board caused by the death of Hon. John A. Robinson, of West Virginia, was filled by the election of Hon. Joseph E. Willard, of Fairfax, Va. Mr. W. E. Edwards was elected to fill a vacancy in the Randolph-Macon Institute at Danville.

SAM WILLIAMS ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE IN NORFOLK.

A Very Remarkable Case of Suspended Animation—The Arrests of Two Supposed Robbers—Systematic Looting.

NORFOLK, VA., February 9.—(Special.) Samuel Williams, who has been on trial for the murder of Quong Lung, was today acquitted of the crime. The jury was out only two minutes. When the verdict was announced Williams arose and demanded that proceedings be taken against his accusers, whom he charged with knowing he was innocent throughout. Williams was removed by the court's order.

A mysterious series of robberies have taken place at Lindsay & Co.'s store, in Norfolk county, for some time past. Although the place was watched every night no one ever discovered how the robberies were committed. The fastenings of doors and windows were always intact, and the mystery remained unexplained for weeks. Meantime the systematic looting of the place continued until today, when John Nelson was arrested. His means of entering the building were discovered to be an underground passage ending under a meat-box, under which a section of flooring had been removed.

It is stated that the Norfolk Driving Park and Fair Association will hold no spring races this year, but that the trustees at the local track has in the past not been such as to encourage the bringing here of fast stock and noted riders. The Norfolk track compares favorably with the largest and best in the country. It is situated on a hill, and the racing men will lease the park and bring some of the finest runners and trotters in the country here, making Norfolk part of their circuit.

CASE OF SUSPENDED ANIMATION.
A remarkable case of suspended animation has occurred at Lambert Point, Mrs. Benjamin Lewis, who lives at that place, and whose husband has been suffering from a severe illness, was taken ill on Tuesday, and her family physician was promptly summoned and prescribed for her. Her condition was not thought to be dangerous until she became unconscious, and all efforts to rouse her entirely failed. Another doctor was called in consultation with the family medical attendant, and heart-failure was given as the cause of the sudden death. All preparations for the burial were made, and an order for making ready a grave in the family burying-ground of the dead lady, in North Carolina, was telegraphed to her relatives. Even the hour of departure of the bereaved husband, with the remains of his wife, for her old home was set, and the watch over the remains begun. One of these watchers noticed what seemed to her a slight movement of the body, and immediately reported the same to others in the house. Though the appearances of death were still in the body, the family physician immediately began vigorous measures of resuscitation, and was rewarded by a return of the lady's consciousness and recovery.

A SUSPECTED CROOK CAPTURED.
The police of this city think they have captured the man who is responsible for many of the carefully-planned and skillfully-executed robberies that have taken place here during the past two years. Albert Kipp was arrested in Portsmouth last night while he was attempting to dispose of a $40 watch for $3. It was identified as the property of J. D. Thomas, who was recently robbed. The prisoner tells concerning the watch, that it was stolen from him by a man who he says is a crook. He is being held for further examination.

HOSPITAL COMMITTEE AT WORK.
The Williamsburg Asylum, and Other Matters of Interest.

WILLIAMSBURG, VA., February 9.—(Special.)—The Executive Committee of the Eastern State Hospital directors was in session at the institution today for several hours, auditing accounts contracted for the past month, and attending to other routine matters. The members present were Colonel Walter H. Taylor, of Norfolk; Captain Terence McCracken, of Fredericksburg; and Dr. J. T. Lewis, of Williamsburg. The directors of the institution are satisfied that the hospital cannot be run on a reduced appropriation, and if a cut is made one or more of the wards will be closed.

Mr. A. G. Irons, from Hampton, representing the Virginia Young Men's Christian Association, was here yesterday in the interest of the association. Mr. Irons was introduced to a number of our people interested in this work by Mr. Jake White, who is prominently connected with the college association. The Ladies' Auxiliary of the college Young Men's Christian Association met Friday evening to elect officers for the year.

There was a big gathering of the regulars at Port Arthur today to partake of the hospitality of Mr. Arthur Dennard, the owner of that famous resort.

MUCH DIFFERENCE OF OPINION.
Relative to a Removal of Buckingham Courthouse.

HOWARDSVILLE, VA., February 9.—(Special.)—Monday, the 14th, is Buckingham County Court day, but there are no cases of any importance on the docket. There will, no doubt, be a large crowd in attendance, in anticipation of a free-for-all discussion about the removal of the courthouse, of the vote thereon, and the recent action of Delegate Blanton. It appears that the Steering Committee of the movement requested Mr. Blanton to introduce a bill in the Legislature to allow the voters of Buckingham to express their opinion upon the subject, but upon the urgent request of several prominent citizens, he agreed not to introduce the bill until after next court-day, and furthermore agreed to come to Buckingham Courthouse on next court-day and hear the people discuss the question before taking any action. But these gentlemen, to whom he had made such promises, were, in fact, not ready, and surprised to see in the paper several days ago that Mr. Blanton had introduced the bill into the House and had it passed. So, whether Mr. Blanton is at court Monday or not, whether he will be entirely without power now, nay, even disagreeable, he will be sure to be informed of the sentiments of the Democracy of Buckingham, who believe in fair play to all and special connivance with none, not only upon the court-house question, but upon something which, perhaps, will come a little nearer home. Look out for lively times in old town on Monday.

RELIGIOUS AND PERSONAL.
On Monday night a union revival meeting will be commenced at the Methodist church. Rev. Mr. Wiley, a noted evangelist, will assist the pastor, Rev. Mr. Ware. The meeting will continue through the week, and, perhaps, longer.

Mr. Wilkerson, former operator at this place, was in town yesterday visiting his old friends.

Mr. Benjamin Turner, who broke his leg a little before Christmas, is now able to walk around.

Miss Nellie Nash and Miss Harvey are visiting friends in Scottsville.

Mr. Williams, an associate of the Llanan Soapstone Company, was in town today on business.

LOOKING OVER THE FIGURES.
Alexandria Council Examining the Books of the Gas Office.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., February 9.—(Special.)—Twenty ineffectual ballots were cast by the City Council at its meeting last night for a successor to Mr. T. T. Cook, late clerk of the Gas Department. The candidates for the office—Messrs. Samuel L. Monroe, of the United States Internal-Revenue Service, and John H. Strider, a well-known newspaper man—both failed to secure the thirteen votes necessary for election, the ballots cast resulting alternately twelve to eleven in favor of each. The Council then adjourned until next Tuesday night, when the contest will again come up.

As to the supposed shortage in Mr. Cook's accounts, the report submitted by Actuary Bayne, who has been at work on the books of the gas office for the past several months, is that there is a shortage of the $1,558.39 paid into the City Treasury by the friends of the ex-official. Mr. Cook is bonded in the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland, which corporation will be called upon to make good this amount, should it be found that the shortage is real, and that it is not the fault of the delinquent again come to his aid, which it is thought they will do. Should the loss fall upon the Fidelity Company, prosecution will undoubtedly follow.

Contrary to expectation, Mr. Cook has as yet made no published statement, and he did not appear at the meeting of the Council last night, being still confined to his home by illness. Actuary Bayne will continue his examination of the books of the gas office, and further developments are looked for. The statement rendered yesterday was but a partial one, covering the period from June 1, 1897, to January 25, 1898. Mr. Greene moved that this statement and all papers accompanying it be referred to a special committee of the City Council, but Mr. Uhler, of the Finance Board, considered that the matter should be referred to a committee on Finance and Light. This suggestion was adopted. A resolution was also passed instructing the joint committees on Finance and Light to regulate the manner of the settlement of gas bills.

It is thought quite likely that the responsibilities and salary of the position formerly held by Mr. Cook will be materially reduced—in fact, some of the City Fathers are in favor of abolishing it altogether.

THE PROPOSED NEW COUNTY.
Much Opposition To It in Pulaski—Local Items.

PULASKI, VA., February 9.—(Special.) The Pulaski county people held a meeting here on court-day (yesterday) and adopted unanimously a resolution against the proposed Tyler county. The citizens from the eastern part of the county, which would be in the new county, took the most active part against the movement to remove to Pulaski, though farthest from Pulaski City, the county seat. This was specially true of those living near the distant village of Churchwood. Citizens near the town of Churchwood were disposed to press their views, and desired to have the county seat in the county unwillingly, but were glad to see that such citizens wished to remain.

The County Court will be in session next week. Only one case was tried today, a misdemeanor. Two negroes were charged with fighting, and one was drunk. If we had a chain-gang in this county, such cases would rarely occur, and the State would save thousands. As it is, the darky, instead of serving his county by breaking rocks in the road, will eat three square meals a day at the State's hotel in Pulaski, kept by Sheriff Carper, and sing psalms and play cards from noon, and night for thirty days. Oh, Virginia, mend and reform in this poor old State!

There are several cases on the docket for misdemeanor against some young men who got on a lark Christmas and New Year's eve, and who were arrested on the Norfolk and Western railroad between Radford and Dublin. Charge it to John Barclay.

We have delightful weather now, after a grand ice harvest and royal skating day and night for the young people.

The health of our town is excellent, precautions being taken against small-pox reaching here from Cochran and other places.

CHARLOTTESVILLE Jottings.
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., February 9.—(Special.)—The Democratic Club Committee has ordered a primary to be held on the 23d of this month, to nominate candidates for Mayor, Commonwealth's Attorney, City Sergeant, and Commissioner of the Revenue.

The opening of the Summer School of Methods will be held in Charlottesville, the Chamber of Commerce last evening having accepted the proposition made by Mr. Glass, the manager of the school.

The "Blue Ridge" club recently organized to promote social interests among the young men of the city, opened their temporary quarters last evening in the post-office building. The members are negotiating for a club-house in a desirable part of the city, which will be ready for occupancy by the first of March.

Bank Lowers Rate of Discount.
HARRISONBURG, VA., February 9.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank, of Harrisonburg, held yesterday, the rate of discount was reduced from 6 to 5 per cent. This bank is one of the strongest in Virginia, and its action is expected to have a decidedly beneficial effect throughout the Valley section.

LETTERS TO JURYMEN.
Judge in Hazelton Shooting Case Gives Instructions Thereon.

WILKESBAIRE, PA., February 9.—When court opened this morning for the trial of Sheriff Martin and his deputies, Judge Woodward spoke to the jurors about receiving letters bearing upon any point in the trial. He said:

"If you receive any letters with reference to the trial, whether anonymous or signed, it is your duty to hand them over to the District Attorney, and you must not allow them to make any impression upon your mind."

The first witness called today was John Yourshewskoy, one of the Harwood strikers. He testified that the strikers were unarmed, and that the Sheriff stopped them, hit two men in the front rank, and tried to shoot his revolver. It stopped twice and then exploded. Right away there was a volley of shots from the deputies, and many of the strikers fell.

Steve Juskow, the man whose arm was broken and head cut by blows of a rifle in the hands of a deputy at West Hazleton, swore that at the time of the assault he was behaving in an orderly manner and saying nothing. Afterward, he said, the deputies put him in the lock-up for two days, and then he was taken to the hospital. He was laid up for two months.

The evidence of Michael Popos, who followed Juskow, was nearly corroborative of what had already been told about the shooting at Lattimer.

Three witnesses were heard at the afternoon session, and only one gave evidence which was at all new.

Lewis Kitzki told how on arriving at West Hazleton with the strikers two deputies seized him by the collar, pushed him around, and tore his shirt. He said a number of the men were so frightened by the action of the deputies in threatening them with their guns that they ran home and did not march to Lattimer.

Lattimer, the witness said, the Sheriff asked for the committee, and while a man was looking for the three committeemen the Sheriff pulled two fellows out of the line and tried to fire his revolver.

He started to run at once, and dropped down behind a little stone about thirty yards away. There was a volley and then a lot of separate shots, and they came so thick around me I lay flat on my back and got into a shanty, but the deputies fired on the shanty and a few men were killed.

On cross-examination he admitted that the Sheriff had told the strikers to go home, and that they disobeyed and marched on to Lattimer.

SURPRISE IN ASHLAND.
Nothing Known of a Plan to Remove the College.

ASHLAND, VA., February 9.—(Special.) Neither President Kern nor any member of the faculty of Randolph-Macon College, nor any Ashland trustee, has heard of any plan to move the college. Dr. Smith, chancellor of the system, was here last week, and if any proposition had been made to take the college to Lynchburg by that city's donating $100,000, it must have been made since he left. As far as the faculty know, the only question before the board was the expediency of having a joint commencement box for next year. That certainly would be held here, if Ashland could take care of 500 or 600 students of the Randolph-Macon system, and the friends and patrons whom the authorities would invite. This commencement is a pet scheme of Dr. Smith's, and his object would be to show those who have in later years contributed so liberally to the building up of the system what their contributions have done for the cause of education. If the removal should be contemplated, Ashland would make a hard fight to hold the institution it is so justly proud of.
